SYSTEMS INTEGRATION & PROGRAMMING

VLS collaborates with lighting specifiers and end users to help design new intelligent lighting systems that contain the latest in relevant lighting technology.

VLS examines the objectives and the venue's intended use to help you find the best system for your space.

We integrate systems that utilize third-party controls for items such as audio-visual equipment, building management and many others. Our dedicated project management team will help establish all project documents and coordinate with other parties to ensure a professional, complete solution and a smooth installation.

We also provide professional guidance and site surveys during the installation process and can conduct onsite training for proper programming, maintenance, and operation of the system.
